ABSTRACT

The first of the two bibliographies in this document contains 38 entries on neonatal nursing, including books and journal articles (originally published from 1973 to 1986) dealing with such topics as high-risk pregnancy and delivery, home care of developmentally disabled newborns, and family dynamics. The second bibliography, titled "Neonatal Intensive Care Units," consists of 56 entries (originally published from 1982 to 1987) on topics ranging from legislation affecting the handicapped newborn to related moral and ethical issues, physical care of low birthweight infants, and infant stress under intensive care.
